(New York, NY) - October 30, 2012

On Wednesday, October 31st, most shows that were scheduled to go on will perform for both the matinee and evening performances. Theatergoers should check BroadwayLeague.com, ILoveNYTheater.com, Telecharge.com, Ticketmaster.com, or the official show website to confirm that the specific show is playing, or in the event of a schedule change.

For questions about exchange or refund policies, theatergoers should contact their point of purchase.

Charlotte St. Martin, Executive Director of The Broadway League, stated, “Most shows will go on as scheduled for both the matinee and evening performances on Wednesday, October 31st. For those theatregoers who are staying in hotels and can’t get home, it’s a great time to see a show. As always, the safety and security of theatregoers and employees is everyone's primary concern, so for those who can’t get in to the city as a result of the suspension of public transportation by government authorities or additional safety precautions that were implemented, they should contact their point of purchase for questions about exchange or refund policies.”
