

ART PRODUCTION FUND TALKS: LAND ART

DAVID BROOKS
moderates a discussion with panelists:

MARK DION
(artist)

KATE ORFF
(landscape architect)

MIERLE LADERMAN UKELES
(artist and author of Maintenance Art Manifesto)

SINA NAJAFI
(curator and editor-in-chief of Cabinet magazine)

MONDAY JANUARY 30th 2012

Special access to Desert Rooftops (46th Street / 8th Avenue) 3:00 - 6:00 pm

Doors: 6:30 pm / Talk Begins: 7:00 pm

Times Square Visitor Center: 7th Avenue btwn 46th & 47th Street

Free and open to the public

Please RSVP to mail@artproductionfund.org

Programming for the Last Lot focuses on presenting public artworks that raise environmental consciousness. This panel will discuss the expanding tradition of land art and its ability to articulate the continuously convoluted relationship culture maintains with the larger biosphere.

David Brooks' Desert Rooftops is on view at The Last Lot (46th Street and 8th Avenue, NYC) through February 5th, 2012. The Last Lot is a short term donation to Art Production Fund from The Shubert Organization, and is part of the Times Square Alliance's public art program that works to bring cutting-edge art to Times Square. Special thanks to Times Square Alliance for hosting this discussion. + TIMESSQUAREARTS