(NEW YORK, NY — April 25, 2024) — The Times Square Alliance is pleased to announce the lineup for TSQ LIVE, a series of over 80 free, open-air performances across Times Square's public plazas, beginning this May and running through September 2024. This year's edition features programs from renowned organizations, including Carnegie Hall Citywide, Jazz at Lincoln Center, Ailey Extension, Elsewhere, Soul Summit, Street Lab, among others. This year marks the very first TSQ LIVE open call, in which performers can apply for a spot on the big stage.

TSQ LIVE is one of New York's largest free outdoor events series which serves hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers every summer. Featuring a dynamic array of dance, performance, and music, the program reflects the diversity, creativity and talent that defines New York City, while bringing audiences from all walks of life together. The series highlights both established institutions and emerging talents by turning over Times Square as a platform to showcase their work and reach a cross-section of the district's hundreds of thousands of daily visitors.

New to TSQ LIVE this season, visitors can expect gender-expansive DJ sets with FEMME HOUSE, elder-millennial friendly dance parties with Matinée Social Club, and live music from MTA Music coupled with interactive art programs from Street Lab. The Summer Friday series has doubled the amount of concerts and includes celebrations of pride with jaw-dropping performances from JORDY and Molly Grace. TSQ LIVE's on-going partnerships with Ailey Extension providing a variety of dance classes and esteemed performances by Carnegie Hall Citywide and Jazz at Lincoln Center remain staples throughout the line up.

"Living up to its name, the Crossroads of the World, the free public programming of our plazas in Times Square is a direct reflection of our community, culture, and all that New York City has to offer and is just as diverse and dynamic as the people in Times Square," said Joe Papa, Director of Events and Programming at the Times Square Alliance. "Complete with emerging artists as well as charting pop stars, this year's TSQ LIVE lineup is stacked with an incredible range of talent, from a solo cellist creating an intimate soundscape to in-your-face rock-out moments; from a 17-piece big band to a 40+ dance crew; and everything in between at a venue like no other."

"Just like Times Square itself, TSQ LIVE has something for everyone this year and we look forward to seeing the hundreds of thousands of visitors each day take in this amazing array of programs," said Tom Harris, President of the Times Square Alliance. "Enjoy all these great events on your way to your hotel, Broadway show, favorite restaurant or after work in the heart of Times Square."

Thank you to the supporters who make TSQ LIVE possible. This program is supported by a Market New York grant from Empire State Development and I LOVE NY/New York State's Division of Tourism, awarded through the Regional Economic Development Council initiative.

All Wednesday performances are presented by Nasdag.
